

BENEFITS OF PLAYING GAMES WITH YOUNG CHILDREN

Cari Ebert, MS, CCC-SLP

www.CariEbertSeminars.com

1

Board and card games teach children about success [winning] and disappointment [losing]

2

Board and card games help children learn to aspire to reach goals

3

Board and card games teach children to take turns and practice being patient

4

Board and card games teach children to learn and follow rules

5

Board and card games help children develop problem solving skills

6

Board and card games require children to focus and pay attention

7

Board and card games help children learn to control their emotions

8

Board and card games support development of fine motor, language, and early math skills

9

Board and card games help children learn to work cooperatively [during the game and when setting/cleaning up]